Supporting the NHS: Covid-19 Resources

BSCAH is a society made up of healthcare professionals. We appreciate the hard work and risks that our colleagues are facing, at this time of the Covid-19 pandemic. We wish to lend our expertise and support to all those who are contributing. We have made available these resources for the public and health practitioners to access to help cope with the Covid-19 situation; along with free consultations for our NHS colleagues.

To gain access to the resources please click use the link: <https://www.bscah.com/covid-19-resources>
Please feel free to use them as described on the website.

Further information can be found on our website www.bscah.com. If you have any questions about these resources please contact natoffice@bscah.co.uk
